1. Post-Project Analysis: After your project is completed, answer the following questions:
 - What parts of your project did you revise? Why?
 - i. I revised all pages of your project to ensure everything was done correctly and all requirements were met.
 - What did you learn while creating your project?
 - i. While working on the project, I learned a lot, particularly about the importance and helpfulness of having a detailed plan or framework in place such as defining project goals, outlining features and functionalities, creating wireframes or mockups, and establishing a development timeline before starting coding. It helps streamline the development process, and reduces the likelihood of encountering major issues later on.
 - Are there any sections that do not work as well as you would like? For example, do your pages display correctly in all major browsers?
 - i. Yes I was thinking of making a banner and a responsible Slick Carousel Plugin for the banner.
 - ii. I was working to make the account Page more generic
2. Bibliography: Add a bibliography of any resources that you used. Include
 - “upstreamprevention.org” <https://upstreamprevention.org/3-unexpected-benefits-of-reading-for-pleasure-as-an-adult/>
 - “Barshorp:” <https://bookshop.org/shop/indyreads>
 - “Noble and barnet”: <https://www.barnesandnoble.com/>
 - “Bookouter:” <https://bookoutlet.com/>
3. Be sure to include the resources you submitted in your project proposal.
4. Use MLA Style Guidelines for your project documentation.
5. Add any other notes as necessary.
 - I really Enjoyed working on this project, It’s very helpful. It’s helped now a lot about web development and i’ve learned a lot of tools that I can use in my career.
