Purpose

The purpose of the Book Plaza website is to offer and store many varieties of books. By creating a site that is not only visually appealing but also filled with the information needed by the clients; the site itself should help improve the traffic to the business. With the field as competitive as it is, the professionalism of the website could be the difference between receiving a call for further information or the business getting glanced over.

The purpose of the Book Plaza website is to offer a wide selection of books and provide an online platform for book lovers to explore and purchase their favorite reads.

Needs Analysis

This site will be designed to meet the following needs and provide information in the following areas:

- Showcase a visual tour of the bookstore.
- Display categories and genres of books available.
- Provide information on book-related events, author signings, and promotions.
- Offer convenient online purchasing options.
- Feature book reviews and recommendations.
- Include contact information and directions to the physical bookstore location.

The website will fulfill these needs by providing a user-friendly interface, easy navigation, and engaging content to enhance the online shopping experience for customers.

Goals

1. Create a visually appealing and user-friendly website that reflects the charm and atmosphere of our bookstore.
2. Provide an online platform to showcase our extensive collection of books and attract customers.
3. Offer convenient online purchasing options and drive sales both online and in-store.
4. Keep customers informed about upcoming events, promotions, and new book releases.

Competition:

The first site I looked at was Bookshop. (<https://bookshop.org/shop/indyreads>)

- First Impressions: Clean and modern layout with a focus on showcasing featured books.
- Navigation: Easy-to-use navigation with clear categories and search functionality.
- Content: Wide selection of books across various genres.
- Features: Offers options to support local bookstores and indie authors.
- User Experience: Smooth browsing experience with intuitive interface.
- Overall Impression: Well-designed website with a strong emphasis on supporting independent bookstores and authors.

The second site I looked at was Barnes & Noble(<https://www.barnesandnoble.com/>)

- First Impressions Visually appealing website with a professional layout.
- Navigation: Extensive navigation options with dropdown menus for easy browsing
- Content: Vast selection of books, e-books, and other media products.
- Features: Membership program offering discounts and special deals.
- User Experience: Robust search functionality and personalized recommendations.
- Overall Impression: Established brand with a comprehensive online bookstore offering a wide range of products and services.

Both competitors offer a diverse selection of books across various genres.

Bookshop.org emphasizes supporting indie bookstores and authors, appealing to socially conscious consumers. Barnes & Noble leverages its brand recognition and membership program to attract and retain customers. Both websites prioritize user experience with intuitive navigation and search functionality.
